Chapter One : Background and Recent Development

- 1.01 On 7 January 2004, the Chief Executive established the Constitutional Development Task Force (“the Task Force”) to take forward matters relating to constitutional development. The Task Force is led by the Chief Secretary for Administration. Its members include the Secretary for Justice and the Secretary for Constitutional Affairs.
- 1.02 Since its establishment, the Task Force has collected, through various channels, the views of different sectors of the Hong Kong community on the issues of principle and legislative process in the Basic Law relating to constitutional development. The Task Force has also met with officials of the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress (“NPCSC”) and the Hong Kong and Macao Affairs Office of the State Council in Beijing, Shenzhen and Hong Kong, to discuss issues relating to constitutional development.
- 1.03 On 30 March this year, the Task Force made public its First Report on the issues of legislative process in the Basic Law relating to constitutional development. The Report set out in detail the views of the community and the views of the Task Force on these issues.
- 1.04 On April 6 this year, the NPCSC adopted “The Interpretation by the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress of Article 7 of Annex I and Article III of Annex II to the Basic Law of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People’s Republic of China” (referred to as “the Interpretation” hereafter), in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Constitution and the Basic Law. According to the Interpretation, should there be a question as regards whether there is a need to amend the methods for selecting the Chief Executive and for forming the Legislative Council, the Chief Executive shall make a report to the NPCSC, and the NPCSC shall, in accordance with Articles 45 and 68 of the Basic Law, make a determination in the light of the actual situation in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (“HKSAR”) and in accordance with the principle of gradual and orderly progress.

- 1.05 On 15 April this year, the Task Force made public its Second Report on the issues of principle in the Basic Law relating to constitutional development. The Report set out in detail the views of the community received by the Task Force on these issues of principle, the Task Force’s observations on the actual situation in the HKSAR at present, and the views and conclusion of the Task Force on the relevant issues of principle. Moreover, the Task Force recommended that the Chief Executive should, in accordance with the Interpretation promulgated by the NPCSC on 6 April this year, submit a report to the NPCSC. The report should recommend that the methods for selecting the Chief Executive in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council in 2008 be amended, and should request the NPCSC to make a determination to that effect in accordance with the relevant provisions and principles in the Basic Law. The Chief Executive accepted the recommendation of the Task Force. On 15 April, he submitted the relevant report to the NPCSC. The Chief Executive’s report was made public in the HKSAR on the same day.

1.06 As stated in the report submitted by the Chief Executive to the NPCSC and the Second Report of the Task Force, in considering how the methods for selecting the Chief Executive in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council in 2008 may be amended, we must have regard to the following factors :

- (i) the Central Authorities have constitutional powers and responsibilities to oversee and determine constitutional development in the HKSAR, in order to ensure the implementation of the basic policies of the State regarding Hong Kong. The HKSAR, in examining the direction and pace of its constitutional development, must pay heed to the views of the Central Authorities, and must also confirm with the NPCSC first as to the need for change. In any case, according to the Basic Law, any amendments can only be made with the endorsement of a two-thirds majority of all the members of the Legislative Council and the consent of the Chief Executive, and they shall be reported to the NPCSC for approval or for the record;
- (ii) any proposed amendments must comply with the provisions of the Basic Law. Amendments to the design and principle of the political structure prescribed in the Basic Law must not be lightly contemplated;
- (iii) the appointment of the Chief Executive by the Central Authorities is substantive. No proposed amendments shall affect the substantive power of appointment of the Central Authorities;

- (iv) any proposed amendments must aim at consolidating the executive-led system headed by the Chief Executive and must not deviate from this principle of design. They should aim at perfecting the executive-led system, and should not lead to a deterioration of the co-ordination problem of the current relationship between the executive authorities and the legislature;
- (v) development towards the ultimate aim of universal suffrage must progress in a gradual and orderly manner step by step. The pace should not be too fast. The progress should accord with the actual situation in the HKSAR, in order to preserve its prosperity and stability;
- (vi) when considering the actual situation, public opinions, as well as other factors, including the legal status of the HKSAR, the present stage of constitutional development, economic development, social conditions, the understanding on the part of the public of “One Country, Two Systems” and the Basic Law, public awareness on political participation, the maturity of political talent and political groups, as well as the relationship between the executive authorities and the legislature, must be taken into account;
- (vii) any proposed amendments must enable different sectors of society to be represented in the political structure, and to participate in politics through various channels;

- (viii) any proposed amendments should ensure that consideration would continue to be given to the interests of different sectors of society; and
- (ix) any proposed amendments must not bring about adverse effect on the systems of economy, monetary affairs, public finance and others as prescribed in the Basic Law.

1.07 At its Ninth Session on 25 and 26 April this year, the NPCSC deliberated on the report submitted by the Chief Executive on whether there is a need to amend the methods for selecting the Chief Executive of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region in 2008. On 26 April, in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Basic Law and the Interpretation, the NPCSC adopted the “Decision of the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress on issues relating to the methods for selecting the Chief Executive of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region in the year 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region in the year 2008” (referred to as “the Decision” hereafter). The Decision was promulgated on the same day.

1.08 The NPCSC Decision on the methods for selecting the Chief Executive in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council in 2008 in the HKSAR is as follows :

- (1) The election of the third Chief Executive of the HKSAR to be held in the year 2007 shall not be by means of universal suffrage. The election of the Legislative Council of the HKSAR in the fourth term in the year 2008 shall not be by means of an election of all the members by universal suffrage. The ratio between members returned by functional constituencies and members returned by geographical constituencies through direct elections, who shall respectively occupy half of the seats, is to remain unchanged. The procedures for voting on bills and motions in the Legislative Council are to remain unchanged.

- (2) Subject to Article (1) of this Decision not being contravened, appropriate amendments that conform to the principle of gradual and orderly progress may be made to the specific method for selecting the third Chief Executive of the HKSAR in the year 2007 and the specific method for forming the Legislative Council of the HKSAR in the fourth term in the year 2008 according to the provisions of Articles 45 and 68 of the Hong Kong Basic Law and the provisions of Article 7 of Annex I and Article III of Annex II to the Hong Kong Basic Law.

1.09 The HKSAR Government welcomes the NPCSC's acceptance of the Chief Executive's recommendation, and the determination that the methods for selecting the Chief Executive in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council in 2008 could be appropriately amended. As referred to in the NPCSC Decision, before making the Decision, the NPCSC has consulted the Task Force and different sectors of the Hong Kong community, and has considered the relevant views. In the Decision, the NPCSC has also stated that developing democracy in the HKSAR in the light of the actual situation and in a gradual and orderly manner according to the provisions of the Hong Kong Basic Law has all along been the resolute and firm stance of the Central Authorities. With the development and progress in all aspects of the Hong Kong community and through the joint endeavours of the Government of the HKSAR and Hong Kong residents, the democratic system of the HKSAR will certainly be able to progress forward incessantly, and ultimately attain the aims of selecting the Chief Executive by universal suffrage upon nomination by a broadly representative nominating committee in accordance with democratic procedures and electing all the members of the Legislative Council by universal suffrage provided for in the Hong Kong Basic Law.

- 1.10 The Decision of the NPCSC has initiated formally the amendment mechanism in the Annexes to the Basic Law, in respect of the methods for selecting the Chief Executive in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council in 2008. The Decision has also clarified the scope for amendments. This helps the Task Force to embark on its work for the next stage.
- 1.11 In his closing remarks at the Ninth Session of the Standing Committee of the Tenth National People's Congress, the Chairman of the NPCSC said, "The HKSAR Government and the various sectors of the community will, in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Interpretation and the Decision of the NPCSC and on the basis of cultivating a broad consensus in the community, put forth relevant specific proposals which will be reported to the NPCSC for approval or for the record, so that the relevant issues relating to HKSAR's constitutional development can be properly dealt with."

1.12 Accordingly, the Task Force has prepared this Report, and will start to widely collect views and specific proposals from the community as regards how the methods for selecting the Chief Executive in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council in 2008 may be amended. To provide reference to different sectors of the community when formulating and discussing specific proposals, Chapter Two and Chapter Three of this Report respectively set out the areas which may be considered for amendment in respect of the method for selecting the Chief Executive in 2007 and the method for forming the Legislative Council in 2008. To facilitate public discussion, we have also sought to set out, in Chapter Two and Chapter Three, the major provisions of the Basic Law and the local legislation regarding the methods for selecting the Chief Executive and for forming the Legislative Council. In future, after consensus has been reached on specific proposals, implementation will follow respectively the amendment mechanism in Annexes I and II to the Basic Law and local legislative procedures.

1.13 Apart from the areas which may be considered for amendment as set out in Chapter Two and Chapter Three of this Report, the Task Force also welcomes views and specific proposals from different sectors of the community on other areas regarding the methods for selecting the Chief Executive and for forming the Legislative Council.

Chapter Two : The Method for Selecting the Chief Executive

Existing Provisions

2.01 Article 45 of the Basic Law stipulates that :

“The Chief Executive of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region shall be selected by election or through consultations held locally and be appointed by the Central People’s Government.

The method for selecting the Chief Executive shall be specified in the light of the actual situation in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region and in accordance with the principle of gradual and orderly progress. The ultimate aim is the selection of the Chief Executive by universal suffrage upon nomination by a broadly representative nominating committee in accordance with democratic procedures.”

2.02 The specific method for selecting the Chief Executive is prescribed in Annex I to the Basic Law.

2.03 In accordance with the provisions of Annex I to the Basic Law, the Chief Executive shall be elected by a broadly representative Election Committee in accordance with the Basic Law and appointed by the Central People’s Government. The Election Committee is composed of 800 members, who are in turn elected by some 163,500 voters, including 13,500 corporate bodies and 150,000 individuals.

2.04 The Election Committee is composed of members from the following four sectors :

- Industrial, commercial and financial sectors 200
- The professions 200
- Labour, social services, religious and other sectors 200
- Members of the Legislative Council, representatives of district-based organizations, Hong Kong deputies to the National People's Congress, and representatives of Hong Kong members of the National Committee of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference 200

2.05 In accordance with the provisions of Annex I to the Basic Law, the delimitation of the various sectors of the Election Committee, the organizations in each sector eligible to return Election Committee members and the number of such members returned by each of these organizations shall be prescribed by an electoral law enacted by the HKSAR in accordance with the principles of democracy and openness. Corporate bodies in various sectors shall, on their own, elect members to the Election Committee, in accordance with the number of seats allocated and the election method as prescribed by the electoral law.

2.06 The Chief Executive Election Ordinance (Cap. 569) stipulates, in accordance with the provisions of Annex I to the Basic Law, the detailed statutory requirements and procedures governing the election of the Chief Executive, including the constitution of the Election Committee. The four sectors of the Election Committee are constituted by the following 38 subsectors :

	Subsector	Number of members allocated
First Sector (Industrial, commercial and financial sectors)
1.	Catering	11
2.	Commercial (first)	12
3.	Commercial (second)	12
4.	Employers' Federation of Hong Kong	11
5.	Finance	12
6.	Financial services	12
7.	Hong Kong Chinese Enterprises Association	11

34.	Legislative Council	60
35.	Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference	41
36.	Heung Yee Kuk	21
37.	Hong Kong and Kowloon District Councils	21
38.	New Territories District Councils	21

(* The number of members to be nominated by each of the six designated bodies of the religious subsector are as follows :

- Catholic Diocese of Hong Kong (7)
- Chinese Muslim Cultural and Fraternal Association (6)
- Hong Kong Christian Council (7)
- The Hong Kong Taoist Association (6)

- The Confucian Academy (7)
- The Hong Kong Buddhist Association (7))

2.07 Of the 38 subsectors set out above, apart from the National People’s Congress subsector, the Legislative Council subsector and the religious subsector, members of the remaining 35 subsectors are returned by election in accordance with the numbers allocated. The relevant elections are conducted in accordance with the simple or relative majority system of election (otherwise known as the “first past the post” system of voting). A voter for a subsector may vote for as many candidates as the number of members allocated to the subsector concerned and no more. The candidates elected for the subsector are those who obtain the greatest number of votes at the election and then the next greatest and so on until the required number of members are elected. Detailed provisions are set out in Part 4 of the Schedule to the Chief Executive Election Ordinance.

2.08 Hong Kong deputies to the National People’s Congress and Members of the Legislative Council are ex-officio members of the Election Committee. Members of the religious subsector are nominated to the Election Committee by the six designated religious bodies of that subsector.

2.09 The Election Committee is constituted by election by around 163,500 eligible voters, including 13,500 corporate bodies and 150,000 individuals in accordance with the Chief Executive Election Ordinance (see Appendix 1). The constituents of the 38 subsectors are set out in detail in Appendix 2.

- 2.10 Annex I to the Basic Law also provides that candidates for the office of Chief Executive may be nominated jointly by not less than 100 members of the Election Committee, and that each member may nominate only one candidate. The Election Committee shall, on the basis of the list of nominees, elect the Chief Executive designate by secret ballot on a one-person-one-vote basis. The specific election method shall be prescribed by the electoral law.
- 2.11 In addition, Article 7 of Annex I provides that if there is a need to amend the method for selecting the Chief Executives for the terms subsequent to the year 2007, such amendments must be made with the endorsement of a two-thirds majority of all the members of the Legislative Council and the consent of the Chief Executive, and they shall be reported to the NPCSC for approval. Having considered the relevant report submitted by the Chief Executive, the NPCSC determined on 26 April this year that the method for selecting the third term Chief Executive in 2007 may be amended (see paragraphs 1.04 and 1.08 above).

Areas which may be Considered for Amendment

(i) The Number of Members of the Election Committee

- 2.12 At present, Annex I to the Basic Law provides that the Election Committee shall be composed of 800 members. To enhance its broad representativeness and to allow more members of different sectors of the community to take part in the election of the Chief Executive, consideration may be given to whether, and the extent to which, the number of members may be increased.

(ii) The Composition of the Election Committee

2.13 Annex I to the Basic Law provides that the Election Committee shall be composed of members from the following sectors :

- Industrial, commercial and financial sectors 200
- The professions 200
- Labour, social services, religious and other sectors 200
- Members of the Legislative Council, representatives of district-based organizations, Hong Kong deputies to the National People's Congress, and representatives of Hong Kong members of the National Committee of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference 200

The subsectors constituting each sector are prescribed in the Chief Executive Election Ordinance (see paragraph 2.06 above).

2.14 Consideration may be given to whether the current arrangements for constituting the Election Committee may be amended, including :

- (a) whether the existing four sectors should be retained, or whether new sectors should be created?
- (b) whether the ratio of members allocated to each of the sectors should be changed?
- (c) whether the number of subsectors constituting each sector should be changed?

(d) whether the number of members allocated to each of the subsectors should be changed?

(iii) The Number of Members of the Election Committee Required for Nominating Candidates for the Office of Chief Executive

2.15 At present, Annex I to the Basic Law provides that candidates for the office of Chief Executive may be nominated jointly by not less than 100 members of the Election Committee. Each member may nominate only one candidate. Consideration may be given to whether the required number of subscribers may be changed.

(iv) The Delineation and Size of the Electorate of the Election Committee

2.16 For easy reference, the 38 subsectors of the Election Committee have already been set out in paragraph 2.06 above. As mentioned in paragraph 2.09 above, at present the Election Committee is constituted by election by around 163,500 voters.

2.17 To enhance the representativeness of the Election Committee, consideration may be given to how the delineation and size of the eligible electorate of the Election Committee may be suitably expanded. For example, consideration may be given to increasing the number of constituents (including corporate bodies and individuals) of the subsectors (c.f. Appendix 1).

Chapter Three : The Method for Forming the Legislative Council

Existing Provisions

3.01 Article 68 of the Basic Law stipulates that :

“The Legislative Council of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region shall be constituted by election.

The method for forming the Legislative Council shall be specified in the light of the actual situation in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region and in accordance with the principle of gradual and orderly progress. The ultimate aim is the election of all the members of the Legislative Council by universal suffrage.”

3.02 The specific method for forming the Legislative Council is prescribed in Annex II to the Basic Law.

3.03 In accordance with the provisions of Annex II, the Legislative Council shall be composed of 60 members in each term. Annex II also prescribes the composition of the Legislative Council in its first three terms, as follows :

	First Term	Second Term	Third Term
Members returned by functional constituencies	30	30	30
Members returned by geographical constituencies through direct elections	20	24	30
Members returned by the Election Committee	10	6	0
Total	60	60	60

3.04 Article III of Annex II also provides that, if there is a need to amend the method for forming the Legislative Council after 2007, such amendments must be made with the endorsement of a two-thirds majority of all the members of the Legislative Council and the consent of the Chief Executive, and they shall be reported to the NPCSC for the record. Having considered the relevant report submitted by the Chief Executive, the NPCSC determined on 26 April this year that the method for forming the fourth term Legislative Council in 2008 may be amended (see paragraphs 1.04 and 1.08 above).

3.05 In accordance with the provisions of Annex II to the Basic Law, the Legislative Council Ordinance (Cap. 542) specifies detailed statutory provisions on the division of geographical constituencies and the voting method for direct elections therein, the delimitation of functional sectors, their seat allocation and election methods, etc.

3.06 As regards direct geographical elections, the Legislative Council Ordinance stipulates that there are to be five geographical constituencies. In general, the 30 seats to be returned by geographical constituencies through direct elections are distributed among the constituencies in accordance with their population distribution. Details are as follows :

- (a) the Hong Kong Island geographical constituency to return 6 members;
- (b) the Kowloon East geographical constituency to return 5 members;
- (c) the Kowloon West geographical constituency to return 4 members;
- (d) the New Territories East geographical constituency to return 7 members; and
- (e) the New Territories West geographical constituency to return 8 members.

3.07 For elections in geographical constituencies, the List Voting System operating under the Largest Remainder formula, which is a form of proportional representation voting system, is adopted. Under this system, candidates contest the election in the form of lists. Each list may consist of any number of candidates up to the number of seats in the relevant constituency. An elector is entitled to cast one vote for a list. Seats are distributed among the lists according to the number of votes obtained by the respective lists.

3.08 For functional constituency elections, the Legislative Council Ordinance provides for the establishment of the following 28 functional constituencies :

- (1) Heung Yee Kuk
- (2) Agriculture and fisheries
- (3) Insurance
- (4) Transport
- (5) Education
- (6) Legal
- (7) Accountancy
- (8) Medical
- (9) Health services
- (10) Engineering
- (11) Architectural, surveying and planning
- (12) Labour
- (13) Social welfare
- (14) Real estate and construction
- (15) Tourism
- (16) Commercial (first)
- (17) Commercial (second)
- (18) Industrial (first)
- (19) Industrial (second)
- (20) Finance
- (21) Financial services

- (22) Sports, performing arts, culture and publication
- (23) Import and export
- (24) Textiles and garment
- (25) Wholesale and retail
- (26) Information technology
- (27) Catering
- (28) District Council

3.09 Except for the labour functional constituency which returns three members, all functional constituencies return one Legislative Council Member each.

3.10 At present, there are about 160,000 registered electors for the functional constituencies, including 13,000 corporate bodies and 147,000 individuals. Details are set out in Appendix 3.

3.11 The detailed composition of each functional constituency is set out in Appendix 4.

Areas which may be Considered for Amendment

(i) The Number of Seats in the Legislative Council

3.12 Annex II to the Basic Law provides for the method for the formation of the Legislative Council. The Legislative Council shall be composed of 60 members in each term. To cater for the increasing workload of the Legislative Council, and to encourage more members of different sectors of the community to participate in the elections and the work of the Legislative Council, consideration may be given to whether, and the extent to which, the number of seats may be increased.

(ii) The Number of Seats Returned by Geographical Constituencies through Direct Elections

3.13 At present, Annex II to the Basic Law provides that, for the third term Legislative Council, 30 members are to be returned by geographical constituencies through direct elections.

3.14 Consideration may be given to whether, for the fourth term Legislative Council, the number of seats returned by geographical constituencies through direct elections may be increased.

3.15 Further, consideration may also be given to whether the number of geographical constituencies may be increased accordingly, and how the additional seats may be distributed.

(iii) The Number of Seats Returned by Functional Constituencies

3.16 At present, Annex II to the Basic Law provides that, for the third term Legislative Council, 30 members are to be returned by functional constituencies.

3.17 Consideration may be given to whether, for the fourth term Legislative Council, the number of functional constituency seats may be increased. If the number of functional constituency seats is changed, the number of seats returned by geographical constituencies through direct elections must also be changed at the same time, so as to meet the NPCSC's requirement that these two categories of seat shall be equal in number.

(iv) The Delineation and Size of the Electorate of Functional Constituencies

3.18 Regardless of whether the number of functional constituency seats is changed, consideration may be given to whether the existing delimitation of the functional constituencies may be changed. If the number of functional constituency seats is increased, consideration may be given to what the new functional constituencies, as well as their compositions, may be.

3.19 Moreover, to further enhance the broad representativeness of the functional constituencies, consideration may be given to how to suitably broaden the delineation and increase the size of the eligible electorate of functional constituencies.

(v) Provisions regarding Nationality of Legislative Council Members

3.20 Article 67 of the Basic Law provides that “[t]he Legislative Council of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region shall be composed of Chinese citizens who are permanent residents of the Region with no right of abode in any foreign country. However, permanent residents of the Region who are not of Chinese nationality or who have the right of abode in foreign countries may also be elected members of the Legislative Council of the Region, provided that the proportion of such members does not exceed 20 percent of the total membership of the Council.”

3.21 Accordingly, the Legislative Council Ordinance allows Hong Kong permanent residents who are not of Chinese nationality or who have the right of abode in foreign countries to participate in the Legislative Council elections through the following 12 functional constituencies (which constitute 20 percent of the Legislative Council seats) :

- (1) the legal functional constituency;
- (2) the accountancy functional constituency;
- (3) the engineering functional constituency;
- (4) the architectural, surveying and planning functional constituency;
- (5) the real estate and construction functional constituency;
- (6) the tourism functional constituency;
- (7) the commercial (first) functional constituency;
- (8) the industrial (first) functional constituency;
- (9) the finance functional constituency;
- (10) the financial services functional constituency;
- (11) the import and export functional constituency;
- (12) the insurance functional constituency.

3.22 Given the nature of profession or business they represent, the above 12 functional constituencies have a higher chance of having more members who are of foreign nationalities or who have the right of abode in foreign countries. Therefore, Hong Kong permanent residents who are not of Chinese nationality are allowed to participate in the Legislative Council elections through the relevant functional constituencies as designated by law.

3.23 If the number of Legislative Council seats is increased, we may, in accordance with the provisions of the Basic Law, consider whether to correspondingly increase and how to allocate the 20 percent of seats.

Chapter Four : Invitation to the Community to Put Forward Views and Specific Proposals

- 4.01 The Task Force welcomes views and specific proposals from different sectors of the community on how the methods for selecting the Chief Executive in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council in 2008 may be amended. When forwarding their views and specific proposals to the Task Force, members of the community may make use of the proforma in Appendix 5 for the purpose of providing summary submissions. Of course, the Task Force also welcomes full submissions from members of the community.
- 4.02 Members of the community may forward their written submissions and specific proposals to the Task Force by mail, facsimile and e-mail by 31 August:
