Dear Sir/Madam,

I wonder the main motion of this idea. First of all, our government seems to make a big organization. Expanding the size, especially the upper class or maybe called core management, seems to be the problem of our government. Secondly, if you want to suggest doing any big project before, please try to do some effective improvements without spending extra money for the existing system. Thirdly, the great idea must cause large expansion of middle class of management after the core expanded.

No matter how, you must start at no additional cost concept to advise all great ideas, otherwise, either cutting all the salaries of you before or no more stupid suggestions of getting citizen's money! Don't just sit in freezing office and your brain going to winter sleep.

Best regards,

W.M.Chen
